RECORDER GRIM WANTS ADDITIONAL MEN

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.--County Recorder Grim of Oakland has just requested that the Legislature amend the county government act so as to give him one chief deputy at $2400 and eight deputies each at $1500 a year three of the latter not to be appointed until business of the office warrants the appointment.

"This amendment which was asked by Recorder Grim," said Deputy Sinclair in his office today, "only increases the general expenses of this department $1800 a year. Three years ago we were granted three deputies which we have never used. We do not intend to use them now unless an emergency should arise. The increase in the salary of the chief deputy will be $600 a year. Another motive of it is to create the position of a public's so that employees now called filing and recording clerks will be known as deputies."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.--The flood situation in northern California appeared relieved today through an interruption in the rainfall that continued throughout last week. Early reports received at the local weather bureau today indicated that the precipitation throughout the Sacramento valley last night was trifling in amount. At Sacramento there was a record of 10 of an inch and at Red Bluff but a trace.

In the San Joaquin valley and in the southern part of the State the storm ap-

YOUNG NILES GIRL MAY BE INSANE

Blanche Ellen Sharp, the 20-year-old daughter of Gertrude M. Sharp of Niles was brought to the Emergency Hospital this afternoon by her mother and is held in solitary confinement until tomorrow when she will be examined as to her sanity before Judge Waste of the Superior Court.

On the 15th of this month Miss Sharp attempted to hang herself at her home in Niles and all but succeeded being cut down when she was nearly gone. This was her second attempt at self-destruction the first having been an attempt to end her life by inhaling gas last November.

Miss Sharp when seen in her cell this afternoon talked quite lucidly saying her health has been so bad since an attack of typhoid fever last summer that she does not want to live. She says that all she asks is to be allowed to get out of the hospital. She has no hallucinations and is well educated, having been a student at the State University before her illness. Her mother is unable to watch her at all times and adopted this as the last resort to save her daughter a life, trusting to expert care in a sanitarium to restore her daughter's health.

The accused was brought into considerable prominence at all times through his being held as a suspect in Oakland during the investigation of the mysterious murder of Mrs. Dunne.

He is being represented by Attorney James H. Boyer and the chief witnesses against him are Mrs. Dunne's sister and her son and daughter. The work of securing a jury will probably be completed today.

Delegates Demand County Control of the Highways

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.--Less than one-half of the accredited delegates to the annual convention of the State Good Roads Association which convened in the Chamber of Commerce building today, were present. The disruption to traffic communicating with northern points in the State has made it impossible for the delegates to arrive.

One dominant purpose governed the convention and that is to arrange that the counties shall have a full sway in improving their roads.

This provision will be incorporated in a roughly drawn bill which has already been prepared to be ratified at the convention.

This bill will also contain a provision that the State shall agree to maintain a more important roads in a county.

A board of State highway commissioners is asked for.

Contrary to Governor's Plans

Knowing that this bill was contrary to the plans of Governor Lillie, who has already drafted a bill providing for a State appropriation of $5,000,000 to carry on highway work throughout the State, the Board of Directors met this morning in conference with the Governor and discussed the question.

The Board of Directors is composed of President Charles D. Taggart of Escondido, Vice President M. F. Taipy of Fresno, Secretary J. M. Eddy of Stockton, Archibald Yell of Sacramento, George M.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.--The process of questioning the grand jury who found the indictment against ex-Supervisor M. W. Coffey, a member of the leading board, was put over this morning in Judge Dunne's court until tomorrow.

Claims Immunity Bath

Coffey is being brought to trial by the district attorney and has interposed a motion to set aside the indictment on the ground that the grand jury was not sworn in the presence of the defendant.

Resolutions to Cover Plan

The association will draft a bill of resolutions to be presented to the Legislature.

The delegates argue that several counties in the State have already assumed a heavy burden of indebtedness for the improvement of county roads.

If any bill at variance with this plan should pass the Legislature it will involve many counties seriously.

The convention refuses to endorse the bill and plan of building roads will also be discussed and declared for.

"Leave Us Alone"

Let these legislators leave us alone, declare the delegates. We have a bill here that will provide for everything needed. We know what we want and we all want the same thing. It is to get a bill that will work. If this matter gets mixed in the politics of the Legislature, about seventy of the 200 delegates attended the opening of the convention this afternoon. Routine work occupied nearly all the afternoon.

MILLIONAIRE'S ATTACK ON SON URGES MOTHER TO REPENT

William A. Lamberton Jr., son of an millionaire who was a candidate for the office of New York Governor, today urged his mother to repent.

It is probable that if you will promise to leave town and let your mother alone, she will not see it in a him coming to a reform school.

Mrs. Lamberton who is a widow and lives in a small apartment in New York City, is reported to be in a state of mind that she is willing to do anything to get her son back.

On Sunday evening the son of the millionaire was in New York City and was seen by a reporter at the New York Hotel.

Boy of Four Safe Survivor of Family

GLENWOOD SPRING, Jan. 18.--The bodies of all the children of a family who were killed in a fire at Glenwood Springs, Colorado, today were found in the White House which would have delighted the heart of his admirer, Alexander Hamilton. It was one of the most bitter attacks on the chief executive ever heard in that body. Willett took for his theme, "The Passage of Roosevelt," and in a speech of great length and of great power, he denounced the President's acts since he came into office and scathingly denounced them.

"I am good for fifty years more," said Ogden, having lived all my life in the open air. There is no reason why a man should not live to be 100 years of age and I am aiming at that."

Mrs. Foster heartily agreed regarding the feasibility of the project and they are now living at Richwood, having made their home there for a short time.

CONTEST MOVES STEADILY ON

Candidates Improve Sunday's Opportunity to Introduce Friends

Sunday is always a more or less quiet day in THE TRIBUNE office, but several nominations in the contest were received and today the big box is steadily taking its toll of votes.

Attractive Trips

How would you like to get away from this rain for a couple of weeks? Does New York, the Mecca of every American, look good to you? Wouldn't you like to see the Singer building, or Conny Island, Brooklyn, Bridge and the Statue of Liberty? Wouldn't you like that dash across the continent in a Pullman, into the country of snow and steam heat? Broadway, the crowds, the cafes, that indescribable, unfathomable atmosphere that is New York's, and only New York's—doesn't the idea of it stir your blood? It is all yours, will, the return by way of Yellowstone Park and Portland, provided you want to see it just a little more than the man behind you.

Old Mexico

If he should happen to boat you there is the trip to the city of Mexico as second prize. There is nothing so quaint in Europe, unless it be in old Spain itself, as Mexico, which the Spaniards stamped with their tyrannical and their civilization. It is a country of low white walls, which are the fronts of the houses, pierced by barred windows, behind which pretty secretaries sit casting any glances at the world. In the evening they steal back to "play bear," that is, hold hands with their "novios" through the bars. The City of Mexico has been called the Paris of America, for there all races meet and mingle. There is the peon in his poncho and his blanket straps, the gay children on his horse, and there are the half-breeds, the flower of the nation, on the canal, the cathedral with its miraculous image and forty feet of silver altar rail, and the little church with its image of a black Christ. The building, that house Adams Express Company is covered with priceless carvings, and the new one at the Country Club is the finest in the continent.

For the Young Ladies

For the young ladies are offered trips to Portland, and to Yellowstone Park, that wonder-corner of America, where giant geysers spout, and many-colored springs bubble. All sorts of animals through these woods and can be seen in perfect security. Then there is the trip to Yosemite, the finest kind of a vacation found about the continent. This trip is offered also as an alternating second prize to the most popular woman, the second most popular man will be given a holiday in Los Angeles, with a week's board. The sunny city of the south is well worth seeing. How glad he will be to go. And oh, how glad to get back!

Mr. Clark Entered

A prominent notice from Oakland is Mr. Albert E. Clark, of the Oakland Paper Company, who has just been installed as Chief of Oakland Court No. 6. Tribes of Ben Hur. Mr. Clark is very popular and is right in line for the automobile.

Mrs. Beretta Nominated

One of the most prominent women to be nominated in the contest and to be nominated from many quarters, is Mrs. Beretta, who is widely known socially and for her philanthropic work. With a broad sympathy for humanity, Mrs. Beretta has for several years allied herself with the West Oakland Home and has been largely instrumental in making that organization a strong and helpful one. Friends of Mrs. Beretta seemed divided in their desires, some nominating her as the most popular Oakland woman, and others as the most popular woman in the West Oakland Home, which is entitled to a handsome prize. If chosen over other charitable or religious or fraternal organizations, it is Mrs. Beretta's man it would be in accordance with her notable philanthropic spirit to turn the West Oakland Home over to the West Oakland Home. Another entry in District No. 1 is Mrs. K. Lewis. In District No. 4 Mrs. J. Morn of Fruitvale, a well-known Native Daughter, is making a fine running.

Boys Making Fight

Among the Oakland boys who are making a keen fight in the motor cycle are Russell Doolan of 1116 West street, Ralph W. Tiede of 912 Washington street, George Vestal, James McNally and Ben Velasco. From Alameda are Walter Morrison and Walter Bein, and from Elmhurst, Chester Wood and Lawrence Thune. There is only one motorcycle, but there is a fine list for each district, and a chance for every bright, energetic boy. In fact, the chance for everybody was never better. Go a friend to nominate you, and get in the!

MRS. I. A. BERETTA, Who Has Been Nominated as the Most Popular Woman in Oakland.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT IN MAIL

Superintendent of Delivery Is Caught After Many Years of Public Trust.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 18.—In the arrest of Charles O. Slade, superintendent of delivery of the local postoffice, charged with extracting money from letters, Salt Lake business and social circles are experiencing one of the most pronounced sensations of recent years.

Wife's Dresses Envied

Slade has been employed in the mail service for twenty-eight years, fifteen of which were as head of the city delivery department. His family are prominent socially, entertained in lavish fashion, and his wife's gowns have been the envy of many women in the circle in which she moved.

Confesses Guilt

Postmaster Thomas stated yesterday that when the inspectors were brought here to locate, if possible, the source of the leakage in the local office, no suspicion had attached to Mr. Slade, and that it was only by the most accident that he was discovered in the act of extracting money from letters. He added that Mr. Slade from whom the local police profess to have obtained a written confession of his guilt, had become so adept in the art of opening letters that he was able to press them without leaving any evidence of their having been tampered with.

OAKLAND GROWS TOO FAST

BUSINESS MAN GETS LOST IN SUBURBS.

If Mr. Peck, the local real estate promoter had secured one of those late maps of Alameda county which were compiled by the Governor's surveyor under the direction of the supervisors, he would not have had such a sorry tale of woe to tell his wife. Only a modern map of the county could get you in touch with the development of Oakland. THE TRIBUNE has a few of these fine 6-foot wall maps—the only edition published in two years—and they are compact, convenient and cheap. Ask the editor.

Constipation Caused By Indigestion

IS CURED BY HELPING THE STOMACH DO ITS WORK AS IT SHOULD.

All forms of constipation, bowel or intestinal trouble, owe most of their origin to the improper digestion of food. The bowels measure 20 feet. They are made of muscle and are wound tightly about with millions of nerves. These nerves give life and control millions of muscles or suckers which are supposed to take nourishment from the food as it leaves the stomach and passes along this 20-foot human canal.

When indigestion, dyspepsia or stomach trouble occurs, the food being undigested, poisons cover these millions of muscles. It is a fermented, decaying mass and holds no nourishment as it should. The little muscles sick it up, impart these impurities to the blood, impregnate the little suckers with poison and so the work of constipation and bowel trouble begins.

A natural juice, or secretion belongs naturally in the little cells and glands along the mucous membrane of the 20-foot canal or bowel. When indigestion occurs this juice is lacking and so the mass of waste matter cannot pass along as it should and is piled up and caked in the bowel, thus bringing pain and misery.

After a while the nerves and nerve centers which give vigor and life to the bowel become paralyzed, thus forcing the food to stay in the bowel, thus forcing the food to stay in the bowel, thus forcing the food to stay in the bowel.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, when taken after meals, digest the food properly, even though the stomach is sick, and it passes to the bowels unfermented, and the juices which help the intestines not only to do their work at once, but bulks them up, restoring vitality to the nerves, brings new secretion to the glands and cells, helps bowel action and enriches the blood.

The stomach is the cause. Common sense and science are one on this point. You see it yourself. The little grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will perfectly digest 3000 grains of food. The assimilation of a meal by one of these tablets is an easy matter and it keeps the stomach clean and sweet so that in a brief time this organ is restored.

Every drugstore carries them in stock. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Officer Demented.—James J. Walsh, a demoted man believed to be an army officer, was sent to the general hospital last week. He was returned to the Central Emergency Hospital last night on orders of Mayor Kennedy, acting chief surgeon, who stated that the army authorities had no right to care for the man in the absence of proof of his identity as an officer.

Captains Frank S. Burr and J. L. Lacy, great friends, were held at the hospital and identified Walsh as a former officer of Philippine Scouts.

BLUFF MAY MEAN TRAFFIC AGREEMENT

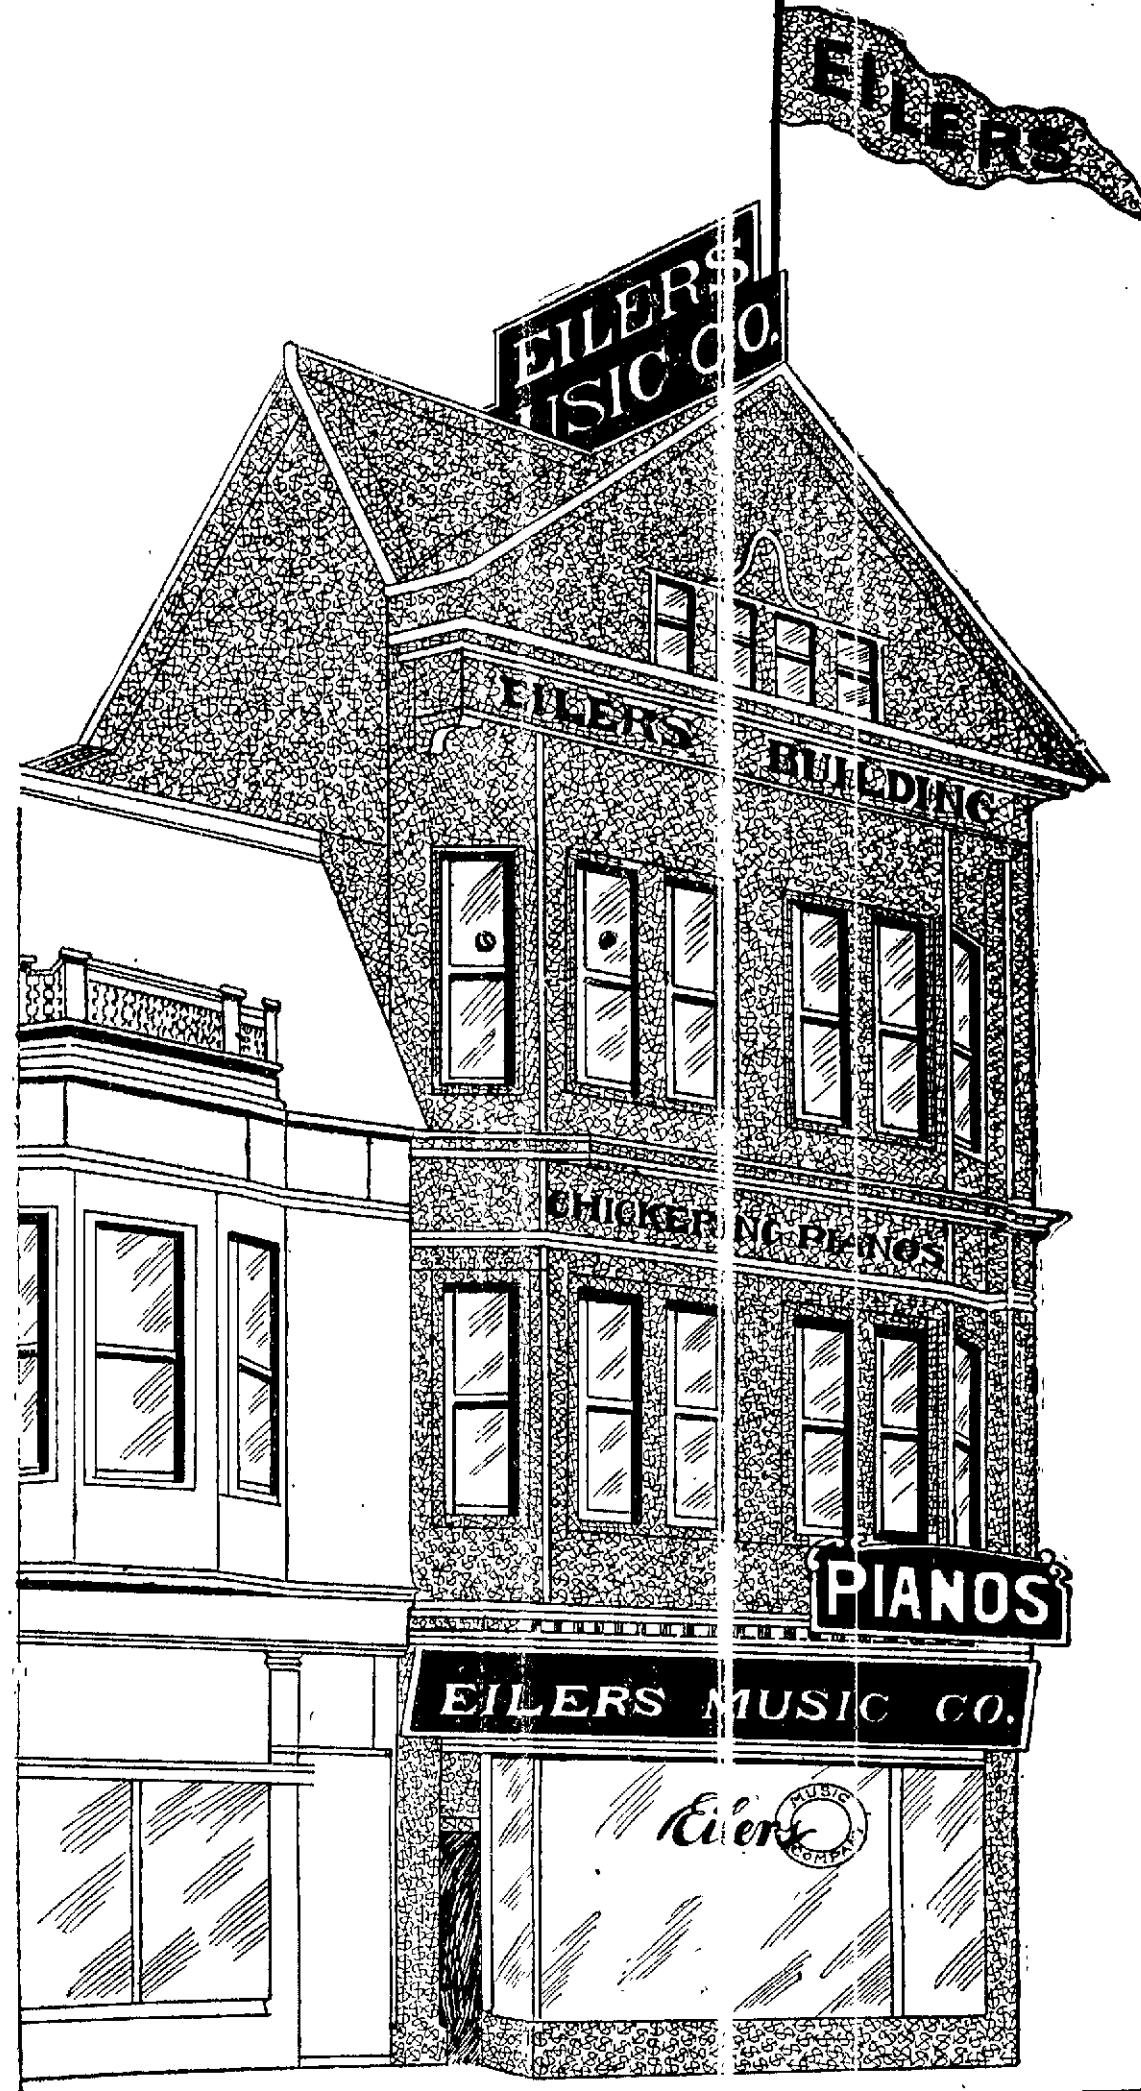

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(Harriman is bluffing.)—The bluffing of the Harriman group upon the announcement to the effect that E. H. Harriman has ordered the withdrawal of the proposed Pacific Railroad bill at once threw 1000 laborers into the field in Northern California to build a new line, the Northern Pacific Railroad, recently purchased by J. J. Hill.

Wall Street does not believe that this bluffing is actually contemplated, although Harriman might actually want to withdraw the bill, but for the sake of the "bluff" would be to force Hill into a traffic agreement.

It is worth noting that Harriman interests maintain that should the "bluff" fail, Harriman is just the man to carry the fight out to the bitter end.

ARMY DESERTIONS ARE EXPENSIVE

Department to Prosecute

forts are to be made by the War Department for the apprehension of deserters, and to this end the quartermaster-general has been asked to make an increased allotment for use in this direction during the coming years.

In the last year the expense of capturing deserters has amounted to a little more than $300 a month and it is designed to increase this to $12,000 a month. The expense of apprehension involves the cost of travel by those who make the arrests as well as of bringing the deserters to trial.

In many instances a reward of $50 is paid to a civil officer such as a policeman in a city and a constable in a smaller place for the recognition and arrest of deserters from the military establishment.

This reward and other expense involved in apprehending deserters are regarded by the military authorities as a profitable investment of the public funds for the reason that the deserters are certainly the apprehension of deserters is bound in the near future one of the most certain 4. outcomes of desertion.

For a while it was considered by the military authorities that a deserter was not worth the cost of the search meant the expenditure of a large amount of money. It was realized speedily that

It is give the impression to probable deserters that they would not be diligently pursued. It is taken the War Department could thus remove this impression. It is for this reason that the allotment for this purpose is now deemed to be increased.

Mrs Michael Bloom of Leavittown, Pa. who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a rough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try VINOL. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, VINOL is unexcelled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.

Some Queer Phases of Immunity.

Judge Dunne has ruled that the immunity contracts given the hoodling Supervisors are not worth the paper they are written on. This ruling was made in the case of former Supervisor M. W. Coffey, who pleaded his contract as a bar to prosecution. Coffey's testimony at the trial of Tilly L. Ford was unsatisfactory to Heney and Burns, and he was promptly haled before the Grand Jury regardless of his contract and indicted on three counts. Judge Dunne says he must stand trial on the indictments. Under this ruling there is only one side to a contract of immunity. It is good if the District Attorney's office chooses to respect it; otherwise not. All the immunity grantees are thus at the mercy of the men who guaranteed them protection from the operation of the law. The condition on which the grantees of immunity were given, ostensibly at least, was that the confessed hoodlums should tell the truth on the witness stand. Coffey says he has told the truth, but Heney and Burns say he has not, and therefore they have revoked his contract and are prosecuting him. Not only does the validity of the immunity contracts depend upon the pleasure of the graft prosecutors, but the truthfulness of the testimony given by the contract witnesses is to be decided by them. What the witness says is the truth is not the truth unless it meets the approbation of Heney and Burns. The situation presents extraordinary possibilities and is extremely suggestive. Wilson, another immunity contract witness, failed to please the prosecution in the Ford trial. He was also indicted, but changed his testimony when Ruef was placed on trial. Apparently he is not to be prosecuted, having redeemed his credit with Burns and Heney.

The President and New Statehood.

A few days ago it was given out at Washington that Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico would be referred to the next Congress. It is now stated that the White House has reconsidered this determination and given orders for Congress to pass a bill admitting the two Territories as separate States prior to the fourth of March next. The Republican platform unequivocally promised Arizona and New Mexico immediate admission as separate States. The promise should be redeemed without delay. But the spectacle of the President driving Congress to pass an immediate admission bill is somewhat amusing. It was the President that blocked admission two years ago. He was bitterly opposed to separate Statehood, and employed all the influence of the Presidential office to yoke the Territories together as one State. The people of Arizona and New Mexico were plainly given to understand that Statehood would be indefinitely postponed if they did not accept the President's dictum. Now the President is represented as so eager for separate Statehood that he can't wait a minute, and he is pictured as clubbing a reluctant Congress to fulfill a pledge made in defiance of his wishes. Our strenuous Chief Executive is certainly a wonder in some respects. The chief marvel is that he never does anything but what is right and does everything that is right; Congress would always be wrong but for the terror inspired by the President. How are things to be kept straight while he is hunting big game (for the Smithsonian Institution) in Africa? And who will pay his barber?

Kaiser William's Loss of Caste.

Lose Majeste has lost all of its terror to the German people, as the result of the Kaiser's recent indiscretions in assuming to define the foreign policies of the nation without consulting his own ministers or receiving the sanction of the Reichstag. The open revolt of the latter against his recent utterances in authorized published interviews, the severe criticisms to which he was subjected by the leaders of all parties represented in that body; the humiliating admissions made by the Chancellor Von Buelow to the Reichstag that neither he nor any member of the cabinet had been consulted on any of the points bearing on the foreign relations of the empire touched upon in the offending interviews, and the protests which the sovereigns of the petty states included in the imperial confederation, produced a revolutionary effect.

The Kaiser has, in fact, been shorn of all the absolute power which he had gradually usurped since his succession to the throne, as a direct result of his folly. The events of the past six weeks have, without resort to arms or the making of any change in the wording of the constitution, dispelled all the illusions regarding the sacredness of his person and the autocratic power which he exercised and to which they passively yielded submission through the previous twenty years, and he has been brought down practically to the level of any ordinary mortal in the empire.

The exposures which have recently been made regarding the private life of his most intimate associates, undoubtedly, contributed greatly to his dethronement from the high pedestal on which he has elevated himself. The German people were quick to understand that the immoralities committed by his personal friends and court favorites could not have been practiced as openly as they were without his having a full knowledge of them, and he has been forced to share to a large extent their disgrace in the eyes of the nation. Now the press and the people are free and open in their criticism of his person and his conduct, fearing no longer any rebuke or the visitation of any penalty for lese majeste from any quarter. No one evidently understands better than himself that he has been shorn of all usurped power and is no longer an object of fear to his subjects, as he has practically gone into self-exclusion and become a political refuse. It is plain enough that the Reichstag will henceforth hold him and his ministers as strictly responsible to its authority as the British King and his ministers are to the will of Parliament.

It is reported that the Fish and Game Commission has been importing Hungarian partridges and shipping them to sportsmen in various counties in order to stock the State with them and furnish the members of the shotgun clubs with a new source for sport. Farmers will not be apt to welcome the importation with the same degree of enthusiasm that the sportsmen are doing, for it will quickly dawn on their intelligences that the distribution of these game birds means the introduction of a new enemy to grain-growing, whose depredations on their crops they will be forced to tolerate by the game laws for the exclusive benefit of a favored class of citizens.

The deal which has been finally closed between the Stanislaus Electric Power Company and the United Railroads Investment Company of New York for the acquisition by the latter of the water rights and the electric power plant of the former, which, it is said, has a capacity of sixty-four thousand horse-power, which involves an outlay of $11,000,000, indicates the enormous values contained in the drainage of the Sierra, which, up to a comparatively few years ago, was practically neglected.

THE DUEL

—BY MAURICE KETTEN IN NEW YORK EVENING WORLD.

Certain Republican journals in California that applauded Assemblyman E. J. Callen of San Francisco for breaking his pledge and bolting the Republican caucus are very much exercised for fear Republican members of the Oregon Legislature will repudiate their pledge to vote for the popular choice for Senator as indicated at the polls. If the pledge be redeemed, as it should be, the anomaly will be presented of a Republican Legislature electing a Democrat to represent a Republican State in the United States Senate. Sheets like the Oakland Enquirer, San Francisco Call and Los Angeles Express are horrified at the idea of Republicans in Oregon violating a pledge which binds them to vote for a Democrat, but they vociferously applauded Callen, who broke his pledge to enter the Republican caucus and vote for the candidate nominated by it. Here's consistency for you! And party loyalty and respect for plighted obligation! But what's the use of talking to a bunch that can't even be true to themselves or keep faith with each other?

The fad which has broken out in London for the purchase of books bound in colors to match the wall paper reminds one of the incidents associated with the furnishing of one of the big mansions erected on Nob Hill, San Francisco, when the shelves of the library were filled with volumes bound in covers to match the carpet, irrespective of their character. More concern for the external appearance of a book than to its contents is a pretty sure sign of the lack of literary taste and discrimination in the possessor.

FEDERAL OFFICER IS TOO POPULAR

Therefore "Alkali Pete," Scout and Sleuth, Is Removed to New Field of Duty.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Popularity is responsible for the downfall of "Alkali Pete," the "cowpuncher" detective, of the federal best investigation. The federal figure which was much in evidence in the Federal Building during the last two weeks is gone. District Attorney Sims admits that he has been transferred to other fields, remarking that a federal secret service man's usefulness is ended when he becomes a popular idol.

Name His Fault
The name "Alkali Pete," which was given to the government detective by attacks at the Federal Building, is admitted to be the only reason for his removal. The name clung to him and he was pointed out to visitors as a sample of the government's secret service employees.

Handy Gun Shooter
"Alkali Pete" was originally a ranchman in Idaho. He was elected a sheriff in that state and was known to be a quick man with a gun. He afterward became a government secret service operator and was ordered to Chicago to assist in the investigation of the packing industry.

FOOTPAD IS SHOT DOWN BY POLICEMAN

FLEES, BUT IS SHOT DOWN

CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF STANDING UP LABORER

Thug Took to His Heels, but Is Brought Down by a Well Directed Shot of the Special Officer Who Chased Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Surprised by the police while he was in the act of holding up a pedestrian with the aid of a confederate at an early hour this morning, a laborer was shot by Special Officer Kaufmann while endeavoring to escape arrest. The police man was patrolling his beat on Montgomery street and when near Pacific he was surprised to see a man with his hand in the air in the middle of the block. He and two thugs rapidly going through his pockets.

Took to Their Heels

As he started toward them they dealt their victim a blow in the face which felled him to the street and despite the officers' cry for them to stop they took to their heels and ran. At the corner of Gold street they separated and Kaufmann chose to pursue Lopez. He called for him to halt and the fugitive shot over his head. As the fugitive paid no attention he took flight to aim and fired again this time striking the thug in the leg and dropping him in his tracks.

Wound's Slight

The patrol wagon was summoned and he was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital where it was found he had sustained a wound of the right thigh which is serious but not fatal. His victim, A. J. Mayne, of 2021 Dupont street, a miller by trade, was able to go to his home. He was treated at $20 and a watch and chain. The latter was found this morning in a little way it had been thrown by Lopez in his flight.

For many years Strominger said that she had been growing cold toward him and that nothing he could do pleased her. If he brought home a wagon load of household supplies he complained that she would still have material of a kind fault.

Mrs. Strominger tolerated her husband in the same house with her, he said but even this was greatly at the expense of his feelings as she made it very plain that she had no use for him.

THE LATE PARIS KILBURN

Paris Kilborn Dies Suddenly

While visiting friends on Saturday he was stricken unconscious by apoplexy or some allied complaint and never recovered from a stroke of coma.

He leaves a widow and son, Cleon Kilborn, of Berkeley, and a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Leighton of Syracuse, N. Y. The deceased was in his 74th year. He formerly farmed and owned a tract of land in the Salinas valley.

Paris Kilborn was born in Pennsylvania and came to California in 1852. The family settled in Napa but it was not long before he was in the Salinas valley. Mrs. Minerva J. Sweeney was given a final decree of divorce today from Rev. George W. Sweeney. The case was filed over a year ago with every attempt at secrecy. The papers were sealed up and locked in the safe at the court clerk's office. The case was won by default and the testimony was taken before the court commissioner.

Today a search among the records at the clerk's office showed that the papers in the case had been taken from the files and the only indication of the presence of "Sweeney" was a brief note that No. 76123 was "missing."

His Many Threats

Mrs. Sweeney was wealthy and she claimed that the reverend gentleman married her on that account. Differences which arose during their wedded life led to a threat on his part to toss her out the window. She said, "I followed the discovery of his alleged meanness in making her his wife constituted the birth of her divorce. Mr. Sweeney has left Oakland for the East."

LAMBARDI'S GRAND OPERA ARTISTS TRIUMPH IN 'LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR'

BIG AUDIENCE GREET SINGERS

Hearers Enthusiastic Over the Voice of Zava'ski, Who Sang Part of Lucia.

On the heels of a series of triumphs in Mexico and southern California, the Lombardi Grand Opera Company, with its quartet of eighteen principal artists who have secured recognition and fame in European music centers, a large chorus and a host of excellent soloists, last night triumphed in the opera with a splendid and elaborate production of 'Lucia di Lammermoor'.

An audience representative and responsive to the high quality and their expectations were more than gratified by the presentation of the grand opera. The presentation was one of the triumphs from start to finish. The singers were at their best, the melody of the orchestra was inspiring, the chorus was one of the finest ever heard on the coast, in grand and the vocal and orchestral efforts in all their appointments were a real triumph, was lacking to the staid of the real triumph.

Soprano Coloratura Surprises

Honors however fell upon the prima donna, Cecilia Tami di Zava'ski, soprano coloratura, as Lucia di Lammermoor. Beautiful and young with all the grace and dignity so marked in the nobility of sunny Italy, she went through the left the tender, the solemn, the tragic and the despairing scenes of the opera with a voice clear and pure and she sang the magnificent aria with ease. Her rendition of the first act was exquisite. Sweetly and gracefully she described the heroine in the first scene. This led to the proud, where Lucia and Edgardo of Ravenswood plight their troth. The duet, 'Veni, Vieni, Vieni, Vieni, Vieni' shall on the opera stage by Zava'ski and Tami di Zava'ski. It was a masterpiece of the opera. The duet was a masterpiece of the opera. Compares With Caruso

Duglio Battini, the lyric tenor, impersonated the role of Edgardo of Ravenswood and while this is his first appearance on the coast he made an impression that will not be forgotten. He sang a number of the songs and he sang a number of the songs and he sang a number of the songs.

Other Leading Roles

Giuseppe Immazzoni, the baritone, who was seen in the role of Henry Ashton of 'Lucia di Lammermoor' is no stranger to us. In fact he is a well remembered favorite. His great success in 'Lucia di Lammermoor' is still remembered with pleasure. Many look upon him as the equal of the great Solvato. Arditio Mauerli, basso, showed a mastery of the part of Raymond chaplain. He sang a number of the songs and he sang a number of the songs.

Orchestra Is Good

Orchestral music we have heard before that has won the spontaneous plaudits of the hearers. But it is to be doubted if we have heard such a fine orchestra before. The orchestra was a masterpiece of the opera.

SAVANT INVENTS LOGIC MACHINE

Professor Rieber Arranges Apparatus That Thinks Like a Man.

BERKELEY, Jan. 18.—A machine that can think and draw rational and infallible conclusions from propositions presented to it has been invented by Professor Charles H. Rieber of the department of philosophy in the University of California. The machine is based on the laws of logic and is capable of solving problems that have puzzled the human mind.

Great interest is being taken in the thinking machine and many letters have been received asking concerning its construction. It proved a confusing puzzle to the students in the department for a time but the inventor's readiness of the people given by the machine has demonstrated its usefulness.

Based on Laws of Logic

The construction of the thought machine is based upon the fundamental principles of logic. It is capable of solving problems that have puzzled the human mind. The machine is based on the laws of logic and is capable of solving problems that have puzzled the human mind.

Before the machine is used it is necessary to analyze the ideas to be presented into their simplest forms. The machine is brought into operation and by a right manipulation of the figures and letters the right answer is given. The machine makes no mistakes and the closest logician has found it impossible to stump such an opponent.

Idea Not a New One

A logical machine was made by an English logician and was mentioned in the proceedings of the Royal Society for the year 1870. The Aristotelian system of deductive logic being used as a basis for the calculation of the conclusions of various arguments.

Professor Rieber's machine was made to illustrate the mathematical qualities of thought to the student. The inventor has been a prominent member of the faculty of the philosophy department for many years and is one of the most popular professors in the University.

SALEM, O., Jan. 18.—Several bills of the legislature to dampen the ardor of the highwaymen thugs, swagmen, bandits and train robbers who have with few exceptions in the last few years, played singular immunity in playing the game and off a murderous traffic in the State.

It is the intention of several members of both houses and the house of representatives to pass a bill imposing a death penalty on criminals who play the game of highway robbery in the State of Oregon. A bill has been introduced in the house of representatives to pass such a bill, but they were rejected on the grounds that the bill was too harsh.

Text of the Bill

Senator R. M. Clatsop of Marion county introduced the proposed legislation in the senate. The bill is aimed at the highwaymen and is intended to pass such a bill, but they were rejected on the grounds that the bill was too harsh.
